Beautiful snow . . . phooey

Deseronto does good clean-up job

O the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below.
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet,
Dancing,
Flirting
Skimming along,
Beautiful snow, it can do nothing wrong.

That was written by John Whittaker Watson, a century ago. Those may have been popular sentiments back in 1869, but, with the way the snow has been dumping down on the Quinte area this past month, it's not likely the poet would find too many people to agree with his feelings about the beauty of the now today.

One person who has real problems with the snow is the fellow responsible for keeping Deseronto navigable after the snow falls.

Orville Brant, public works foreman, has that responsibility in Deseronto and 'We're pleased with the way he handles it,' says Carman Milligan, Deseronto clerk-treasurer.

'We don't have a lot of men and a lot of equipment, but we have a good reputation for snow removal here...we have it all over Napanee and some other towns. Mr. Brant was out until 5:30 a.m. on Tuesday morning, cleaning up after the early-evening snow fall.'

Deseronto was not over its snow removal budget by the end of November but it will be close to using up its budget because of the heavy snowfalls during December, Mr. Milligan anticipated.

'We've had a lot of overtime, but we allowed for this in the budget,' he said.'There's been so much snow, there's been no time to do much except plow, but Mr. Brant hopes it will stay clear for a few days so he can put a run on and get rid of the snow piled up along side streets and at corners and other trouble spots.'

People who have to travel through both Picton and Deseronto have high praise for the way the Deseronto streets are kept cleared, in comparison with Picton. And some out of town visitors to the county, who had travelled from Montreal during Christmas week, said they had no problem with the roads until they hit Picton. 'They had done a beautiful job ploughing the highways, but Picton's streets were very slippery.'

Jan Nicol, Northport, NDP candidate for Prince Edward-Lennox in the last two Provincial elections, was married on Friday, January 30, to George Samis, MPP for Cornwall, and NDP energy critic in the Provincial Parliament. Jan is the daughter of Bess Wares, news editor of the Quinte Scanner, and the late Jack Timmerman. Mr. Samis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Samis of Montreal. The wedding took place in Sydney United Church, Cornwall, and a reception was held at the Anchor Motel. Maid of honour was the bride's neice, Andrea Nevitt of Toronto. Guests from the Quinte area included the bride's sister, Robin Lunn and her husband Alec Lunn, of Picton; Keith Harford, the bride's nephew, Picton, Mrs. Bess Wares of Northport and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lunn of Hillier.

Young, as well as older people, heading for the county

It's not just the retirement age people who are giving up on city living and heading for the county way of life..some young people are doing the same and trying to make a go of it here.

Typical of this new trend is Hedi Campbell, who lives on Amelia Street in Picton, with her young daughter.

Hedi Campbell of Picton, puts a lot of artistic effort into the specialty clothes she designs and makes for children.

`I had the Toronto grind of baby sitters, subways, and job deadlines, she said. I want to live here, in a community where I want to be, with the kind of life style I want.

She had spent a lot of time in this area on vacations and visiting, and the county was what she wanted.

But you have to be able to make a living.

Hedi has a lot of marketable talents. She is a commercial artist and she is a chef,having taken chef training at George Brown College in Toronto. She also likes to design and make children's clothes.

`I figured that, being an artist, I should be versatile and make use of every skill I can. Art and embroidery fit in together and embroidery came back into fashion a few years ago. I do embroidery specialities on jeans, jackets and other things.

`I've been thinking of a shop..a children's boutique..but it's hard by yourself to make all the stuff and keep the store too, so I've put it off for a while.

But she has worked out a good arrangement with the people at the Paradox store on Main Street.

`Judy Hummle, at the store, makes women's clothes in fabrics you don't see in other stores, Hedi said. I suggested to her that she should try making some children's clothes. She said she didn't have the time and why didn't I try it.I had nothing else going right then, so I said okay.

The shop offers quite a variety in the boutique line, women's clothes, jewellery, silver and gold work, framing and art work and some pottery.

About 20 of Hedi's children and baby clothes are in the Paradox at any one time now.

`With that small a selection, it's difficult to have enough for everyone's tast. But people see what's there and order from me.

One recent order was for an oriental type of blouse with mandarin collar in satin for a four-year-old girl, with a pouch bag to match. And her first sale was to a woman whose daughter needed something special for a recital.

`The market is so unpredictable but I'm getting a good response, she said.Most parents are shopping for practicality and economy. Children grow out of things so fast that people don't want to pay too much.

`I can't make terribly much money. There's the cost of the materials..fabrics, buttons, trims..but it's not a major investment, and I add the cost of my work...at about $3 an our.

`I make a little bit and, eventually, it could work out if I get a clientele established. I feel there's a need for a children's boutique in this town.

Hedi didn't always like sewing. She got her first taste of it in home ec. and wasn't too int erested. But later, when she wanted special clothes for herself, she started making them, and then did baby outfits and clothes for her own daughter.

She doesn't work from patterns. She works from standard measurements and sketches her own designs, deciding on which fabrics will be best suited to the design.

Her work is still in the development stage...but I like it, she says. I have creative freedom and can work from my own ideas, from design to finish. Another nice thing is that it allows me to work the hours I want to.

Flu . . . an unwelcome guest

A lot of families had an unwelcome guest during the holiday season...the flu bug.

Doctors were kept busy and visitors have been discouraged, or kept out, of nursing homes and hospitals.

And, if the trend follows that of previous years, the worst is yet to come.

According to Dr. M.G.Fisher of the Hastings-Prince Edward Health Unit, there is an increase in flu in the health unit area, but it is not really unexpected at this time of year. It usually increases and peaks somewhere near the end of January or the beginning of February, Dr. Fisher says.

`The increase is seen across Ontario, and it is hard to tell how widespread it is, Dr. Fisher said. We usually use absentee rates in schools and industries but, because of the holiday season, we aren't getting that feedback right now. We are using reports from doctors.

Getting ready for New Year's Eve is usually fun time but, for the Hubble family, New Year's Eve means a lot of work in advance. 'We're busier than ever at this time of year,' says Noreen Hubble, who owns Deseronto Cleaners Ltd. with her husband, Don. 'We get a lot of evening dresses and special clothes for gala events. All the work is done here. We can't rush anything because it all has to be done carefully and properly.' Their daughter-in-law, Christine, is shown above, hard at work.

Bird's Eye View

by Orville S. Greenbush

By gol, I ain't never seen so much snow at this time of year. Why, our mail box is piled right deep already. I were watching the mail lady (mail person?) trying ter reach out far enough to get a letter into it the other morning, and I got to thinking about how you should oughter be able to tell mail persons by their long right arms. After all that stretching out, their arms must drag along the ground after a few years - enough to give them calluses on their knuckles.

Well, we had a real good Christmas, I didn't go miserable on anybody, but fer a while there I figgered that I'd be cooking up my own Christmas dinner. My Elma come down with this bug as is going around. She were right sick for a couple of days too. Seeing things in the night and such. I figgered she'd be over to the hospital come Christmas, not basting the goose, but she come through.

Seems to me that everybody I know has got this here bug. Me and Elma went to a party New Year's Eve, and half the folks weren't there on account of being bugged. I ain't had it yet - touch wood. Missed them mumps too. I know one feller as went down with the flu first, then got the mumps. I'm telling you - he ain't too happy about that at all. Keeps checking to make sure that them mumps is staying up under his ears and not straying nowhere else.

Mind you, it ain't no joke to get them mumps neither, specially when you're getting on in years. So far I ain't had the bug nor the mumps neither - but if'n my column ain't here next week, well you'll be able to guess why - won't you?

EDITORIAL

We often hear it said that women are slaves to fashion, but, when it comes to dressing sensibly for Canadian winters, men don't seem to have much sense about clothes either.

Some years ago, a friend of ours was commenting about the dang fools who were setting out by plane from a bush camp for a holiday in the city, decked out in city suits, topcoats and 'bare shoes'. If the plane went down over the bush, he pointed out, they'd freeze to death. He himself went in parka and boots, with waterproof matches and other life-saving gear in his pocket. He didn't look as stylish when he arrived in town but so what.

A lot of people are just as foolish when they start out in their cars on winter roads. In they hop, with a shortie coat, and Heaven help them if they get stuck and have to walk or push themselves out.

The sensible thing to do is to wear layers of loose-fitting clothes. The layers will trap insulating air and you can take off a layer or two if you get too hot in the car. And the layers should be made up of fabrics that can 'breathe' so that moisture constantly being emitted by the body as water vapour can escape. Once insulating air space in a non-breathable nylon-covered down jacket, for example, is clogged with microscopic ice particles, its usefulness is ended.

If you are out in the weather, pushing the car or walking for shelter, avoid overheating. At the first indication of perspiration, start removing clothes. Your head radiates more heat than any other part of your body. Covering it helps heat the rest of your body, uncovering it will cool you down in a hurry.

Wool is unbeatable for winter clothing, because it breathes. But if you can't stand itchy underwear, try your flannelette pajamas. The baggier they are, the more warm air they'll hold close to your body.

Wool is great on the feet too. But don't try to stuff feet, bulky with wool socks, into a pair of tight dress shoes. Give your feet room to b reath too.

TRAVELLERS' PROBLEMS

I wonder if something could be done to help travellers coming in to Deseronto by bus to get themselves home.

I arrived in Deseronto on New Year's Day, about 6:30 p.m. The restaurant where the bus stops was closed...which could be expected on a holiday. But there was no outside phone booth where I could call for a cab.

I had to walk about 10 blocks and it wasn't easy with a suitcase and other travelling gear.

It was snowy and icy underfoot and there was a light, wet snow falling.

Other travellers must have the same problem.

Any suggestions?

Quinte News Round Up

WHO WILL GET THEM?

North Marysburgh Township has received initial funds to help home owners make improvements to their property under the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP).

That sounds like good news but, if the program works out the way it did in Deseronto there may be some very disappointed people.

Deseronto never did get any more than the initial funds...$35,000 instead of the total of $60,000 expected...because the Provincial Government ran out of funds for the program in 1977. And, of the more than 30 applications received, only six were able to be approved.

AFTER-CHRISTMAS BILLS

Picton's pubic works employees are going to have more than the usual after-Christmas bills to catch up on this year. They are faced with having to pay back an average of $500 from their incomes to make up for raises that exceeded the AIB guidelines since January of 1976.

A Christmas bonus in reverse.

WHO NEEDS IT?

Prince Edward County's warden Allan Pettingill has been quoted as commenting that the job doesn't pay well enough.

One of the items on the warden's expense list is the warden's banquet which costs about $2,000.

It's not too likely that anyone on the invitation list is starving. And, with so many hungry people in the world, maybe that's one item on the expenses which should be eliminated.

COUNCIL MEETING

Deseronto Town Council is holding its 1978 inaugural meeting in the Town Hall next Monday evening.

CHECK THAT LABEL

If you got any electrical appliances for Christmas..hairdryer, electric comb, night light, etc...take a second look at it and make sure it carries the CSA (Canadian Standards Association) label, proving it has been examined and is safe.

That's the advice from Ontario Hydro which expects to lay between 75 and 100 charges for 1977 against importers and merchants who deal in unapproved, and potentially dangerous, electrical appliances.

Jack Dicker, Hydro's manager of electrical inspection, said before Christmas that there are millions of dollars worth of appliances in Ontario which do not have a CSA label and that hydro inspectors spend a great deal of their time during the Christmas period seeking out unlabelled appliances and ordering them off the shelves.

ROAD CONDITIONS DISCUSSED

Winter road conditions came up for discussion at the December meeting of the South Fredericksburgh Council.

Council decided to request Lennox and Addington to maintain county road 9 in a more equitable manner...that the entire road from Napanee be maintained and that the practice of plowing the eastern section several times before the plow proceeds westward be discontinued.

Council also reviewed the proposed agreement from North Fredericksburgh for winter maintenance by their municipality of roads belonging to the Township of Adolphustown, lying north of Hay Bay. Council endorsed the agreement.

A by-law to raise $100,000 to aid in the construction of tile drainage has been given approval by the Ontario Municipal Board. And an amendment to the restricted area by-law is to be submitted to the OMB for consideration.

A request for a donation from the Napanee District Minor Hockey was referred to the recreation committee for consideration.

It was decided that Adolphustown request that the existing amalgamation committee meet and be adjourned, but that North Fredericksburgh be asked to form a committee from North Adolphustown to negotiate amalgamation of only the northern portion of the municipalities and that Cameron Brooks and Jack Weese be requested to form such a committee with Mary Kaiser to negotiate the terms of amalgamatin of North Fredericksburgh and the northern portion of Adolphustown.

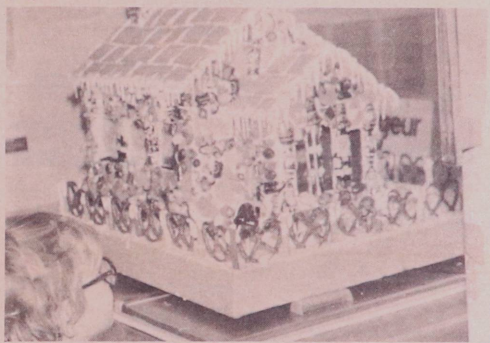
THE DESERONTO REPORTER

News and events of specific interest to the residents of the Town of Deseronto

Figure skating is popular in Deseronto. About 60 youngsters are taking the lessons at the Community Centre this year. Getting ready to go out on the ice takes a bit of time. Skates have to be well fitted and the blades require special sharpening to get inside and outside edges. A group of youngsters pose on the ice with their instructors Daile and Ted Sprogis.



Every kid's dream - a candy house. This one was on display at Kemps Koffee Shoppe during the holiday season. The cardboard base was made by Derek Gordanier. It was covered with seven-minute icing and candies were stuck in the icing. The fence was made out of pretzels. Decorators were Charlotte Kemp and Suzan Gordanier. The architects planned to eat it on New Year's Eve.

NOTICE
HYDRO RATES 1978

As a result of the better than expected operations of Ontario Hydro in 1977, Deseronto P.U.C. will be receiving an anti-inflation discount on bulk power purchased from Ontario Hydro during 1978. The exact amount of this discount will not be known until early in 1978, but it is currently estimated that it will reduce our total revenue requirement by approximately 5.1%.

It will, therefore, be possible for us to defer a proposed retail rate increase at this time.

It takes a lot of feeding to keep a two-week old Pekingese puppy thriving when its mother won't co-operate. Minglo gets bottle fed by the Minnie family of Washburn Street in Picton. Cathy Minnie is taking her turn, holding Minglo's bottle for her.

Only two weeks old - and a bottle addict

Puppies, like all babies, need to be fed often and, when mama dog decides she doesn't want to have anything to do with it, someone has to take on the job.

Minglo, a very small Pekingese, is only two weeks old and her mother refuses to look after her and the other two pups.

But Minglo is lucky. She has been 'adopted' by Mrs. Norma Minnie of Washburn Street, Picton. Norma gets up to feed her mixed milk and pablum from a miniature bottle, every 2 1/2 or 3 hours, day and night.

Minglo's mother, Precious, belongs to Mrs. Minnie's mother, Mrs. G. Blondin, of Fry Road, near Demorestville. Precious, who is about four or five years old, 'can't stand confusion'. Mrs. Blondin is looking after the other two pups. She's used to Pekingese and has 12 or 14 of them as well as a lot of kittens.

She'd like to find a good home for Precious...one where there are no small children. Precious is not a good mother but she is a good dog and would make an excellent pet for a home where things are quiet and there are no small children running about.

Reserve Council holding special meeting to discuss Shannonville lease problems.

Chief Donald Brant of the Tyendinaga Reserve is planning to hold a special meeting Wednesday night to discuss the most recent developments in the Shannonville lease situation with his new Council.

At a meeting in Ottawa last Thursday, Tyendinaga Township offered $5,040, the current value (at today's price) of the barrels of flour owning to the Reserve since 1971. The offer was made by Tyendinaga Township to Department of Indian Affairs officials and, according to Don Ellis, a Shannonville resident and a representative of the township council who attended the meeting, 'The Federal Government acknowledged that we had tendered the rent now, and in 1971 and 1972. They also asknowledged that the lease is good and valid, and the Department of Indian Affairs is going to rec ommend that the rent be accepted. At the same time, they are going to contact the Mohawks and see if they will accept the rent.'

Chief Brant said, Tuesday, that it is still up to the chief to make the final decision, but he wants to have his people behind him. Jack Ellis, Hastings MP had asked him to attend the Ottawa meeting, but the inaugural meeting of his new council was held last Wednesday night and he thought it would be premature to send a delegation to Ottawa before he had had time to speak to council.

The Ottawa meeting was sparked by the turning down of the referendum held on the Reserve to get approval for the conditional and qualified surrender of 124 acres of reserve property. In a previous referendum in October, the majority vote had been affirmative, but not enough qualified voters had cast their votes.

'The referendum was turned down and I want to talk to the leaders of the opposition and see why they were opposed,' Chief Brant said. 'We had general meetings ahead of time and invited anyone who wanted to attend. We answered questions and tried to work to get a solution. People seemed in favour of it, ahead of time.'

'When I campaigned, I told everyone this would be a council working for Dave Thompson gets ready to start out with Raider, a male black labrador retriever, he is training for its owner, Jim Ling, a school principal in Belleville. Dave runs the Gahonk (Wild Goose) training kennels on Highway 49.

DOING WHAT HE LIKES

Training gun dogs for field trials

Dave Thompson is another of the people in the Quinte area who is doing what he wants to do...training dogs for the Canadian Kennel Club field trials.

'When I figure the hours I work, and the money I make, I must enjoy it to do it,' he says.

Dave operates the Gahonk (wild goose) Boarding Kennels on Highway 49 between Marysville and the Deseronto turn off, where he boards dogs and cats on short term (while owners are vacationing or away for other reasons) and o n long term (for dogs boarded and receiving field trial training).

'I had one dog boarding here for over a year,' he said, 'while its owner was in England. But most people who leave them for a long time are too busy to train them and want them to compete. So I run them.

'The dogs need training every day. One man asked how long it took to train a dog and someone told him about 25 years but the dogs don't live that long..there's no end to the training.'

Around the first of March, he'll be heading south with nine or ten dogs, for six weeks training. The dogs' owners pay him.

'The competitions in Canada start in May and they are simulated duck and pheasant hunting, but Canadian dogs haven't been in the water during the winter so they have to be trained where it's warmer,' Dave says.

The Canadian Kennel Club sets the rules. Dead birds are used, shots are fired and the dog is sent to get the bird. Championship points depend on how correctly the dog handles it. It takes 10 points to make a field point champion.

Two years ago, he spent three months on an island in Georgian Bay, training dogs...one of them owned by John Robarts, former Premier of Ontario.

When he gets back from Florida, he starts out on the May and June circuit. In August he goes to Nova Scotia for competitions.

Dave's own dogs are brood bitches, black and yellow labradors and golden retrievers, and he doesn't enter them in competitions.

'The labs are good dogs for running,' he says. 'They accept different runners.

Deseronto Mayor John Neal makes inaugural address to town council

Another year is upon us and hopefully it will be a productive one. In these times of economic restraint, it has sometimes been difficult to do all that was hoped for, but with your co-operation and hard work, I am certain much can be accomplished in 1978. I realize that we have not always been in accord, but we must set aside personal feelings and work together towards the future of Deseronto. The electorate of Deseronto has put us here to serve them.

Three quarters of a million dollars was spent to repair Highway 2, which has improved the Town's appearance. There are still corrections to be made on access to some properties, but these repairs should be completed by early summer. Main Street has taken on a new appearance with more work to continue on this project. Further street repairs about Town are in the planning. Although there has been some criticism of our snow removal programme, Deseronto will take a back seat to none.

The past year has seen the development of one small sub-division, and 1978 will also see the beginning of still another one which will bring us additional revenues.

The addition of Sheller-Globe has alleviated some of the unemployment in Deseronto which is a major concern of all of us. We still have some properties available with which we hope to attract new industry.

Water and water rates have been a controversy in Town for many years. This year will see excellent water at reasonable rates.

Fortunately, it was not necessary to increase taxes by any significant amount in 1977, and hopefully, the same conditions will prevail in 1978.

Gentlemen, with your assistance and co-operation, I look forward to a year of prosperity for the Town of Deseronto.

Scanner columnist Helen Harmer died in Kingston, Sunday

Helen Harmer, well-known in Deseronto through her Homemakers Corner in the Quinte Scanner, died in the Kingston General Hospital on Sunday afternoon, following a brief illness.

She spent Christmas in Deseronto with her mother, Mrs. Lena DeMille of Thomas Street, and relatives said she seemed very tired at that time. During the following week at her home at RR 2, Lyndhurst, she was not feeling very well and, on Saturday night, was taken by ambulance to the Kingston Hospital. She had been a diabetic.

Readers of the Scanner will miss her Corner, with its interesting and varied recipes.

Mrs. Harmer was born in Wellington, daughter of the late Clarence DeMille and Mrs. Lena DeMille. She moved to Deseronto at an early age and lived here until her marriage.

She is survived by her husband, Ross Harmer, of RR 2 Lyndhurst; two daughters, Robin Wilson and Caroline Gamble of Morton; one son, David Harmer, Ottawa; her mother, Mrs. Lena DeMille, Deseronto; two sisters, Mrs. Audrey Harvey, Deseronto, and Mrs. Clarence (Evelyn) Howie, Kingston, and one brother, James, of Deseronto.

Funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon, at 2 p.m., in Elgin.

TRAVELLERS' PROBLEMS

In regard to travellers' problems — we hope in time to have some solutions.

Since taking over the bus stop in October, I have applied to the town for a light on the corner of Dundas and Green Streets, which is a very dark area. An application for a public phone has also been looked into for the same corner.

I have also spoken to Tom Smith, owner of a taxi business in town. He will do his best to have a taxi at the bus stop during the hours in which we are closed, namely the late bus and the Sunday and holiday buses.

If there is any other way we can oblige our customers, please feel free to call us.

EDITORIAL

Some 275 people are going to be out of work in the Marmora area because the Marmoraton iron ore mine will be ceasing operations by March 31 of this year.

The effects on the village of 1,400 are expected to be disastrous. Marmoraton's payroll exceeded $4 million a year, most of which will now be lost to the community.

The shut-down will mean the loss of 6 jobs in the Picton area . . . a small number in comparison to Marmora, but vitally important to the six people who will be out of work. These six people work at the ore docks, just north of Picton. The ore from the mines is brought into Picton six days a week, by a Canadian National ore train. It is stockpiled at the ore dock and shipped out to Bethlehem Steel Corporation by lake boat.

The Marmora ore provides the bulk of the shipments carried by the daily train, although some cement cars are also picked up and delivered at the Lake Ontario Cement Company's plant.

Whether the daily train will continue to run after Marmora closes we have not been able to determine, as yet.

We would like to suggest that it does continue to run, and once again, provide passenger service to the county.

There used to be three trains a week, bringing freight and passengers into the county. 'Oltimers' have many memories of the fun of getting on the train at Bloomfield or some other stop and coming into Picton for shopping or visiting.

Prince Edward County is sadly lacking in public transportation. Senior citizen groups are picking up some of the slack and providing some service for their own members. But the rest of us are stuck if we don't have a car of our own at our disposal.

Just think of the amount of gas, for one item which could be saved if the county had something like the GO train taking commuters to jobs in Belleville or other places, with a fairly short hop to the GO station as the only driving to be done.

And just think of the increase in business Picton merchants might see if there was some way for the car-less customers to get to town and browse through the stores.

The railway tracks are there. How about some enterprising suggestions for making use of them now?

I know just what I aim to do when I get too old to farm no more. Was reading this article in a magazine yesterday, that said that down in the U.S. of A. there's a scheme going where they hire retired farmers as consultants, and send 'em around to these here homesteaders and hobby farmers, to teach them how to do things proper. Now I figger that if'n the States is doing that, why in five or ten years Canada is bound to do the same, they always copy from the neighbours. Anyways, with all this back-to-the-landing I reckon that's just the job for me. My Elma always said I rightly belonged to them lunatic fringes. Just hope by the time the governing gets around to it, I ain't too old to do nothing.

Boy, didn't she rain? Was driving along our road at the weekend and I seen into my neigbour's drive shed. There he was, building a boat. Now that had me real worried. Figgered he might know something I didn't. I was sure glad his name ain't Noah.

Training for field trials is never ending job

The dog's main interest is retrieving. It's the game that counts, and not the person running him.

Asked what the owner got out of having a dog he didn't see that often, he thought it was something like a person who owns a racing boat, or some other competitive thing. 'There's no money involved in prizes,' he said, 'but, if you get a real good male, there are good stud fees. One dog got $17,000 one year in stud fees.

And it's not unusual to pay $1,000 for a lab...often with the stipulation that the female must not be bred.

There are no special courses or qualifications for training competition dogs but, 'if you're not good at it, people let each other know. Most people in field trials know each other coast to coast and there are regular publications carrying field trial news,' he said.

Dave is a butcher by trade. So how did he get started in this line of work?

'I came from a large family in the Napanee area and started training dogs like a kid, playing with them. I had some hounds for hunting, and then got on to retrievers.

'I bought my first dog from Tom Maracle and got interested in field trials and started really training dogs.'

Tom Maracle, police chief on the Tyendinaga Reserve, owns the land the kennels are built on. 'He's interested in kennels. At first I just managed the kennels,' Dave said. 'Now I lease them for myself.'

'To be honest, boarding is the money maker,' he said. 'I had 28 dogs and 8 cats here over Christmas. That's about maximum. Cats are inclined to pine more and we have to be very careful with them.

'About one or two boarding dogs a year are not called for by their owners. I try to find homes for them.'

The Quinte Calendar, printed and designed by B.Q. Graphics, Deseronto, is off the press It features 13 scenes from Prince Edward, Hastings and Lennox and Addington. Photos were taken by David Mercer, Royal Embassy Studios, Picton. Mr. Mercer is a contributing photographer to the Quinte Scanner, and his distinctive photos are well known to all regular readers of the paper. In case you're wondering, the 13th picture is for January 1979. Jim Dobbin, pressman for B.Q. Graphics, takes a look at the finished product. Calendars can be bought at the County Book 'n Craft in the Picton Mall, the County Cupboard, Bloomfield or at the Scanner office, Main Street, Deseronto.

everyone,' Chief Brant said. 'We have to settle as a people, and not party-wise.'

Milton Kearns of Shannonville, chairman of the leaseholders' committee, said of the referendum results, 'I can't understand them. The couldn't have got a better deal.' He did not go to the meeting in Ottawa. Those who attended were Harold Sidelong, Angus York, Bud Payette, leaseholders. Don Ellis and William Picket, their lawyer.

Don Ellis said the $5,040 offer was based on today's price of flour. He pointed out that the cost of flour is very much keyed to the economy. 'The price of bread is a lot higher now than it used to be.' As to the Shannonville land, he said, 'It's not good farmland, except in the extreme east end. If you sold the 200 acres of land, unimproved and unfenced, and not good farmland, you'd get about $10 an acre. If it was fenced and good growing land, you'd get a maximum of $4 an acre to rent it.'

STILL INVESTIGATING

Ontario Provincial Police, Picton, are still investigating an accident in which 13-year-old Traci Rosborough of Northport suffered a broken ankle when hit by a snowmobile which had gone out of control.

The accident happened on January 2, when Miss Rosborough was one of a party sitting around a campfire in a field.

The motorized snowmobile was registered to a Trenton owner and it has not yet been established who was driving it.

SPEEDY RECOVERY

It took only two hours to recover a car stolen from in front of the town barn last Wednesday night. The car belonged to Do n Pringle who left it running to warm it up.

It was recovered in Odessa, two hours later, by the Amherstview OPP. No charges have been laid yet. Constable Rick Dennis of the Deseronto Police, is investigating.

NEW WARDEN

Prince Edward County has a new warden..Reeve Jack Wells of North Marysburgh. He succeeds outg oing warden, Allan Pettingill, Reeve of Hillier.

Mr. Wells has served in municipal politics for many years.

In his inaugural address, he pointed out that he was aware of the need for financial restaints, and would ask county council to keep the tax rate as low as possible, consistent with the provision of adequate services for citizens.

Warden Wells may find that's a hard juggling act...bu t good luck to him anyway.

A LITTLE LESS SALT

A special research program, aimed at reducing the amount of salt used to keep Ontario roads free of ice and snow, is underway on a number of clearly marked sites across Southern Ontario.

'Motorists have become accustomed to driving on relatively bare pavement, even under the worst winter driving conditions. The use of salt can be significantly reduced only if the driving public is prepared to change their driving habits to suit the weather conditions that prevail in the province,' Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow said. 'It is our intention to refine our procedures rather than introduce drastic changes which could result in chaotic traffic problems.'

Fortunately , none of the test sites are in the Quinte area. With the record snowfalls we've been having, the traffic is chaotic enough, without throwing any more curves at us.

ANOTHER GRANT

Prince Edward Region Conservation Authority will get another $9,000 provincial grant to further develop the Macauley Mountain facilities. The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources has approved $10,000 in all for a workshop project at the site. About a year ago, a $1,000 grant had been approved for the workshop. The plan was subsequently expanded with provincial approval.

The major expansion of the conservation workshop project is additional to a $9,000 conservation grant approved for the conservation area last fall, MPP James Taylor, Minister of Energy, reported. This grant was to provide fencing, landscaping and a tree nursery as well as development of a skating rink and pond facilities on the site.

CAREER DAY

Students at Deseronto Elementary are getting a c hance to ask questions about careers they are interested in pursuing, on Wednesday afternoon.

The people who will be taling about their work are James Lester, Helena Murphy, Carmen Milligan, Orval Brant, Richard Brant, Carl Beattie, Dr. P. Steenberg, DR. D. Meredith, Robert Graydon, Audrey Howett, Donald Reid and Bess Wares.

OPEN TO VISITORS

The flu, a problem in many areas, is 'no more than seasonal' in Napanee, according to authorities at the Lennox and Addington County General Hospital in Napanee, and visitors to the hospital are not being restricted.

MINOR HOCKEY

Every Saturday is Minor Hockey day at the Deseronto arena. House League teams compete from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., and OMHA League games are scheduled from 4 p.m. till 11 p.m.

Although there is no charge to watch house league action, OMHA travelling teams depend on spectator support to offset costs of ice time, referees, travelling expenses, etc.

The charge is meagre, to say the least — $1.00 to watch from one to four complete games in Atom, PeeWee, Bantam and Juvenile categories. Midget games are usually scheduled for Thursday nights at 7 p.m.

So come on, all you Deseronto hockey fans, help keep Minor Hockey moving in Deseronto by supporting these teams!

Industrial Hockey

The new six team Industrial Hockey League has now passed the half way point in the season, and already there are signs of rivalry developing with several of the entries. The calibre of hockey has generally improved as the weaker teams have been adding new talent as they go along.

Here again, fans are offered three games of hockey every Monday and Friday night for an admission price of $1.00. It is difficult to find any other form of entertainment anywhere, at these prices.

Exhibition Hockey

The Deseronto Old-Timers have been struggling to field a team of over 35 years of age, with little success. Consequently, in order to keep the team going, players under the age of 35 years who are not connected with any organized league, will once again be considered for membership. Anyone interested in joining the team should contact Jack Layfield at the arena, or phone 396-3432.

Several exhibition games have been arranged for the Old-Timer's team, the first of which is a return of the CKWS No Stars on Saturday, January 28. Game time is 7 p.m., followed by a dance in the community centre hall at 9 p.m. for players of both teams. A limited number of tickets are available to the public for combined addmission to the game and dance at $6.00 per couple. Tickets for the game only can be purchased at the door.

Approximately 50 youngsters are enrolled in the combined Figure and Power Skating classes which take place at the Community Centre on Tuesdays, and Friday evenings at 5 p.m. This program has another 11 weeks to go.

Bus Skate-a-Thon

Approximately $3,800.00 has been either pledged or donated to the fund for replacement of the recreation bus. Those who helped out by skating on November 26, are requested to attempt to collect from their sponsors and turn the money in by January 25. Every dollar collected is matched by a Wintario grant, so it is important that every effort be made to collect the funds already pledged. Actual replacement of the bus, whether it be a new vehicle, or a least a suitable later model, will be discussed in detail at the first meeting of the 1978 Recreation Committee.

Recreation Volunteers

Once again, with the start of a new year, the search is on for volunteers who are willing to commit some of their time to help organize and administer the various programmes throughout the year. Members will be needed for the Recreation Committee itself, Minor Hockey requires new members every season, the newly organized Minor Ball programme needs additional workers to lighten the load for those already involved, and other programs such as Power and Figure Skating, Swimming Instruction, Gymnastics and others, will require volunteers to help keep them going.

library notes

Don't let the after Christmas doldrums get to you. Escape to the 'movies' the way people used to. The library has two new books dealing with favorite film personalities, one by Denis Gifford called 'Chaplin' and one by Cynthia Lindsay called 'Dear Boris' concerning Boris Karloff. Both volumes are packed with still pictures from old film footage.

The 1978 fishing regulations are available at the library, as well as pamphlets concerning health and nutrition.

For the children, there will be a display of books dealing with reptiles and dinosaurs.

Senior citizens will be pleased to note that the film shows will continue in 1978. The date for the first showing is Friday, February 3.

Happy New Year to you all.

Dog controller is a busy man.

What does it take to keep the dogs in Deseronto under control? About 1,403 hours of work and travelling a total of over three thousand miles a year.

Those statistics were contained in the report for 1977 submitted to Deseronto Council by Almond Meeks, animal control officer.

'Bud' Meeks patrolled the town for 558 hours, covering 1,886 miles and answered 218 complaints. He picked up 116 dogs and took 101 of them to the pound, and answered more than 30 calls other than for dogs.

Council names new committee members

Members of committees for 1978 were named at Monday night's meeting of Deseronto Countil. On the standing committee for naming members were Deputy Reeve Bernard Johnston, Reeve Roger Cole and Councillors A. Blayney and Fletcher Vick.

New committees are: FINANCE Reeve Roger Cole, chairman; Councillors A. Blayney and S. Heffernana. LEGISLATION AND BY-LAWS Councillor Clarence Zieman, chairman, Councillors A. Blayney and F. Vick. FIRE AND POLICE Councillor Lyndon Thomlison, chairman, Reeve R. Cole and Deputy Reeve B. Johnston. TOWN PROPERTY Councillor F. Vick, Chairman, Councillors L. Thomlison and C. Zieman. STREETS AND PARKS Deputy Reeve B. Johnston, Chairman, Councillors D. Martin and F. Vick. RECREATION Councillor S. Heffernan, Chairman, Councillors C. Zieman and D. Martin.

A new AD HOC committee was formed, with five members, Councillor A. Blayney, chairman, Councillors L. Thomlison, D. Martin and S. Heffernan, and Deputy Reeve Bernard Johnston.

The new committee will look after industrial and new property development, hoping to attract industry in the new year.

With five people on the committee, a quorum of three can be ensured at all times.

Deseronto Council Briefs

• Concerning cross-connections at Metcalf Foods which could mean the company's own water supply could get back into the town's water supply, and the suggestion that it be cut ff so this would not happen, Councillor Al Blayney wais he thought it was a job Metcalfe's should do themselves and Mayor John Neal said he was inclined to agree with him. Council decided that the Ministry of the Environment be contacted and made aware of council's discussion, and asked to rectify the situation.

• A letter from Douglas Boyle, Q.C., Belleville, in reply to a request for his opinion as to procedures to be taken by the town to alleviate the excess costing of the capital expenditures required to complete the water treatment plant and the annual rate for consumers, was put on the active file. 'The reason I suggest this,' said Mayor Neal, 'is that we are in touch with the Ontario Municipal Board and still trying to get this before the board.'

• A plastic water main on Dundas Street East, broken by T.H. Poole Pole Line Construction while digging to set a Bell Telephone pole, came up for discussion. PUC, in a letter to council pointed out that there appeared to be only about five feet of cover where the original plans called for six foot six inches. PUC wanted to know if the town had any recourse to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications re construction of Highway 2. Reeve Roger Cole wondered if it was in council's best interest to become a third party, and it was agreed that the PUC should deal directly with the MTC for recourse.

• A 1973 tandem dump truck and plow, 18 tons and 10 wheels, is to be purchased for $7,850, out of the 1977 budget. It takes the lace of the 1967 International which has 'given up the ghost.' Orville Brant, public works foreman, is in hospital with a heart attack, and the town is going to try and maintain the streets with the men available.

• A by-law to authorize the borrowing of $150,000 to meet current expenditures of the town got three readings and was passed. The land use control by-law, with revisions, was given a third reading, after Councillor David Martin asked Councillor Clarence Zieman to 'go a little slower through this.'

Deseronto's finances in good shape

Deseronto had a surplus of about $22,000 in 1977, Reeve Roger Cole, chairman of the finance committee told town council at Monday night's meeting.

We're going into 1978 in reasonably good shape,' he said. 'We did a reasonable job of keeping inside our budgets.'

The actual projected surplus is $60,000, but $38,000 of this is earmarked for use next year for work that couldn't be done this year.

Carman Milligan told the Scanner that the surplus came about not because taxes had been set too high, but because of grants and other income which had been difficult to estimate in advance, such as the Resource Equalization Grant being higher than expected, and additional amounts from compensation.

Less land needed - no expropriation for joining Sandbanks and Outlet: Taylor

Hon James Taylor, MPP for Prince Edward - Lennox, was in there pitching for his constituents last week when he carried their concerns about the acreage needed by the Ministry of Natural Resources to carry our their master plan for linking Outlet Beach and Sandbanks Provincial Parks, right to the Ministry officials at Queen's Park.

There was great concern in the county when the preliminary master plan was released by the Natural Resources Ministry. The Ministry had called for public response, and it got it.

County planner R. Ahmed called for a firm stand against the Ministry which, he was quoted as saying 'Made a mockery of local planning goals and objectives.' At least four townships . . . Wellington, Athol, Hillier and North Marysburgh . . . responded promptly, passing resolutions supporting the planning board's opposition to the parks plan.

Possible loss of prime agricultural land, and doubt about local demand for any expansion of park facilities, were county concerns.

Last week Mr. Taylor met with officials from the Natural Resources Ministry to present local concerns.

As a result of the meeting, the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources is scaling down the acreage needed to link the two parks, and there is no urgency to acquire the land, Mr. Taylor reported.

The preliminary master plan visualized acquiring another 350 acres.Following his meeting with Ministry officials, Mr. Taylor said that only about 100 acres more land would appear necessary.

'None of the acreage still required would be prime agricultural land and, in any event, the government would be quite prepared to wait until the owners wish to sell it. There would not be any expropriation. In short, we want to proceed in accordance with local wishes. The matter will be further discussed with Prince Edward County planners.'

He concurred with the Ministry's contention that both parks should be linked by an adequate corridor but he felt there was no local demand for expansion of park facilities.

'I think that we must continue to strike a balance in Prince Edward County between the contribution that the tourist industry and agriculture both make to our economy,' he said.

Potent pop?

We've heard of some pretty potent brews blowing up stills in the mountains, but it wasn't the brew, it was the wind that blew the eight-foot by 12-foot window out of its frame on the Lake Street side of the LCBO in Picton, Saturday morning.

It was the simultaneous opening of two doors and the direction of the wind that did it.

A DREAM COME TRUE

Old school becomes cozy retirement home

The old schoolhouse, built on the western edge of Northport back in the 1840's or 50's, served as a place of learning for youngsters for over 100 years.

Now it's serving a different purpose . . it's a retirement home for Bill and Ethel Linton.

They had spent vacations in this area and wanted to settle here, but money for a retirement home was a problem.

'We brought up a family in the depression and couldn't put much aside. But we wanted a home of our own some day,' Mrs. Linton said.

'We used to board with Clint and Laura Hambly on the High Shore Road for summer vacations, and we loved the area. When we heard that some schoolhouses were going up for auction, we bid for this one and went up to $975. That was the final bid and the auctioneer said he couldn't let it go for less than $1,000 but the schoolboard said we could have it.'

They bought it in 1967 and spent holidays there, not moving in permanently until two years later, when they retired.

They have kept a lot of character in the old school. When you step into the small entrance hall, there is a familiar school room picture of Queen Elizabeth over the doorway leading into the main part of the house. It hung in the school and was purchased at a separate auction by the Lintons.

Stepping into the main part of the house from the hallway, the first impression is one of spaciousness and light . . . a tribute to the imagination and thought the Lintons put into the making of one big room, with 12 foot ceilings, into a warm and comfortable home.

The heating problem dictated how the area would be divided. There is no basement, 'You can't get under the floor,' Bill said. 'It's all stone - solid rock.'

They decided to heat with the Duo-Therm oil stove used to keep pupils at the school warm. It is centred in the building with pipe going out through the back part of the house.

The ceiling has some insulation, but they don't need insulation on the walls or floor.

There are actually three outer walls. The frame outside, two by fours and an inner wall.

'When the man came to put a hole through for the telephone he commented, 'No cold will ever get through here,' And the floors have three thicknesses too,' they pointed out.

But, with just the central heating unit, the interior of the building had to be kept partly open for the heat to circulate.

They accomplished this by partitioning off the back area for a bedroom with an eight-foot high panelled wall, finished off on top by four feet of lattice work open panelling. A half wall cuts off the kitchen at the front of the house.

The left half of the living room area is panelled on the walls and has the original school windows with rounded tops. On the other side, at the back of the kitchen area, a new picture window has been installed. But the walls on that side are still the old, painted narrow

Not notified of offer of money — Brant

Chief Donald Brant of the Tyendinaga Reserve has had no notification from the Federal Government concerning the offer from Tyendinaga Township of $5,040, the current value of the barrels of flour owing to the Reserve from the leaseholders of Shannonville since 1971.

'All I know about it is what I have read or heard in the media,' Chief Brant said.

The situation has not yet been discussed with his Council. A special meeting, suggested for last Wednesday, was not held. Next regular council meeting is this evening and there may be some discussion of the situation at that time.

Bill and Ethel Linton sit in the comfortable kitchen built in the front corner of the old Northport School, which they have turned into a retirement home.

EDITORIAL

The proposal for a nuclear waste deposit site in Marmora has raised its ugly head again.

It has been suggested by geologist, George Wahl, as one of the economic alternatives when the Marmoraton mineworks shut down. The area has a large workforce, oriented to mining and excavation . . . it is well served by transportation links . . . and the geological formations are promising as a storage station for waste from Ontario Hydro nuclear generators.

The Kingston Whig-Standard, in an editorial this week, also suggested that there were grounds for re-considering the idea of a waste disposal site near Marmora, provided that adequate precautions could be devised. The editorial pointed out that 'although the area is theoretically vulnerable to earthquake action, the substrata are believed to have remained unchanged for hundreds of thousands of years . . .' and 'are relatively stable with little probability of future disturbance.' As further inducement, the editorial points out that the plan would provide a new industry for the area in decades ahead.

Frankly, we find the suggestion even more frightening now than we did when it came up for discussion last spring, and was strongly opposed by environmentalists.

The new, and highly emotional, factor - providing jobs for people out of work - should have no place in any consideration of disposal of long-life, lethal pollutants.

We have made many mistakes in the past, putting profit-making and job creation above preservation of the environment of the future.

We can't afford to be stampeded into it where nuclear waste is concerned.

Ontario Hydro has signed a contract with Denison Mines Ltd., for the supply of 63,000 tons of uranium concentrates between 1980 and 2011, and a contract with Preston Mines Ltd. for the supply of an estimated 36,000 tons of uranium oxide in concentrates between 1984 and 2020. Both contracts are conditional upon approval by the Provincial Government.

There's going to be pressure to find a place to store all the waste from this nuclear material if the contracts are approved. There's still time for a second look.

Letter to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Perhaps among my dozens of cousins in the area, someone may have the Day Family Bible or the Wartman Family Bible and can help me to find 'my roots'.

I'm searching for information on the birth of Calvin Woster Day, son of Barnabas Day, the Younger, and Rhoda Purdy, born 1800, Lot 5, Con. 1 Twp. Kingston, and also on the birth of Elizabeth Wright, daughter of Margaret Wartman and Alexander Wright, born 1810 at Point Pleasant, Con. 1, Twp. Kingston.

I know these facts are correct, but I need written proof.

Or, does anyone know where they were baptized?

I shall be delighted if your readers can help me with this puzzle.

Sincerely,

Hilda Day Jackson

Old man winter has dumped a lot of snow on Quinte this winter. Some of it, like this, is picturesque. But won't it be nice when there are leaves, instead of snow, on the trees?

Seems to me I ain't heard no real good stories lately. I was figgering on telling yous all something to cheer you up like, what with all this snow and cold and all. Why, even Elma's old cat ain't fit to live with, got cabin fever I reckon, she's right stir crazy. Goes rushing around the house like a mad thing, and Elma won't put her over to the barn with the other cats, on account of her being so valuable. Ever since she cost us $38 for the vet to get out a kitten as the old fool had got stuck, she gets right royal treatment. Elma says that cat should oughter live for 15 years after costing that much.

Anyway, like I was saying, I ain't heard no real good local stories lately, so I figgered I pass on one I read in that new Harrowsmith magazine.

Seems the chamber of commerce of some little town down in the States were having a wing ding. Well, they'd heard about this other place as had a turkey drop from an aeroplane, so they figgered they'd do the same thing. Now the town that had done it took a whole bunch of them ping pong balls and marked six. Then the plane drops the balls over the town and them as got the marked ones won a turkey. Trouble was, this other place only heard about the turkey drop - didn't hear nothing about no balls. So on the big day they goes up in this little plane and drops half a dozen big tom turkeys from a few thousand feet. Well, you and me know that turkeys don't fly worth a damn, and these here birds figgered they was done for as soon as they throwed em out. Just folded up their wings and dropped like 40 lb. bombs down on the folks in the Main Street. They was real luck that nobody got a direct hit, dropping a tom turkey down like that is sure to be fatal to both the bird and whoever it landed on.

Mind you, I reckon there was some mess when they hit the pavement. Didn't quite make the day the way it was supposed to, what with blood and guts and feathers all over the crowd.

Sure goes to show that there weren't no farmers on that chamber of commerce, don't it?

boards used for the schoolroom walls.

Right angled, decorative struts help support the ceiling and wire cables run from side to side. These were in the old school when they bought it and they have left them as they were.

The old school house lights hang down from the ceiling too.

Cupboards have been built along the kitchen area, which is at the front. 'I like my kitchen where I can keep and eye on things and see what's going up and down the road,' Ethel said.

'We're stuck now without a car. Bill used to be a daring driver when he was a young fellow, but he got nervous in his fifties and sixties and doesn't drive any more.' He is 78 and Mrs. Linton is 75. They have been married almost 58 years.

One of the first things they did was to get the plumbing in. The pipes run underground from the well to a box outside the kitchen. The box is filled with straw to keep out the cold and 'I sometimes get up at night when it's real cold and run the water for a few minutes,' Bill said.

The water pump is under the kitchen sink and the water pipes, back to the bathroom which has been built on one side of the bedroom, are along the wall, inside the house, where they won't freeze.

'A plumber had to work all day to get a hole to put the pipe to the septic tank,' Bill said.

There's a small storage room off the entrance hall which used to be privies for the old school . . . There wasn't any plumbing then. 'We took the seats out to the dump and we use it as a storage room now.'

Mr. Linton still does some gardening. 'But sometimes I wish he wouldn't,' his wife said. 'He grouses about the weather!'

But he finds a lot of interesting things when he digs out back . . . things lost by children many years ago.

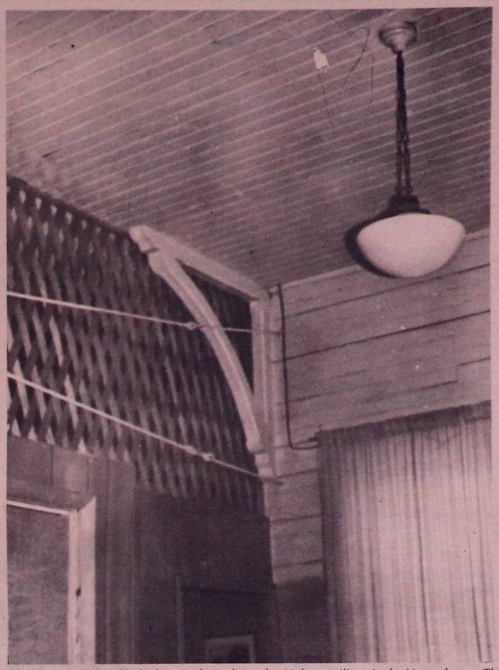
'See my lucky ring,' he said, 'I found it and it had my initial on it.' Another interesting find was a hexagonal-shaped metal tag with 'Good for 1 pail' on one side and 'Northport Canning Factory' on the other.

Mr. Linton was able to do some of the work on the house himself. He has had a variety of jobs in the past. When they got married, he was working with a leather works, making harnesses. He has worked in a casket factory. 'They used to kid me by asking 'What are your measurements, Bill?'' he said.

And he was a diamond driller in Kirkland Lake for some years. Ethel liked the north - 'Boy, could I snow shoe!'

Just before retirement, they were looking after an apartment building in Toronto. They wouldn't want to be doing it now, they said, with some of the kinds of people they're getting in the apartments now.

The Lintons have a two-year-old chihuahua, Honey, and a year-old cat, Fluffy, to keep them company. They have their colour TV and lots of books, which they trade around with the neighbours. They depend on the neighbours to get to the store or to have things brought in. 'The neighbours are great,' they said. But they wish there was still a store in Northport like there used to be a few years ago.



The original school light fixtures hang from the 12-foot ceilings in the Linton home. This shot was taken in a corner of the bedroom area at the back of the house. You can see the old wood walls and ceiling, the right-angled struts and wire cables which help hold the building together and the new wood panelled partition with its lattice work top, which separates the bedroom from the living room. The lattice work allows heat to circulate.

Rec. committee gets conditional grant to help in the purchase of new bus.

The Deseronto Recreation Committee has been awarded a conditional Wintario grant in the amount of $6,800 to assist in the purchase of a vehicle to replace the Recreation Bus.

The bus is expected to cost about $14,000 and half of that amount has to be raised locally.

Almost $4,000 was raised at a Skate-a-Thon held in November but all the pledges have not been turned in yet.

Asked if there were plans for other fund-raising events, Jack Layfield, Recreation director said they were just in the process of getting committees set up for 1978 and the new committees would be discussing future plans.

'We can go one of two ways,' he said. 'We can either try and raise the rest of our half, or we can look around for a used, good bus which costs less.'

'But we need a replacement bus soon. The old one is not being used because of heating and repairs. It's just sitting there. Every time we take it out it costs a pile of money.'

The bus was used by senior citizens who had their own driver to pick them up and take them home after their Wednesday meetings. The Sea Cadets used it too, and so did hockey teams.

'Some of the teams are running buses, and some parents are driving players by car,' Mr. Layfield said.

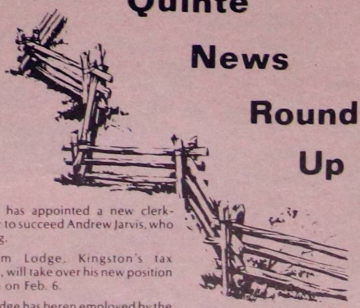
Quinte News Round Up



Picton has appointed a new clerk-treasurer to succeed Andrew Jarvis, who is retiring.

Graham Lodge, Kingston's tax collector, will take over his new position in Picton on Feb. 6.

Mr. Lodge has been employed by the city of Kingston since 1967. He is a graduate of the municipal clerk-treasurer courses, he has been taking accounting courses. He was senior clerk in the treasury department and was appointed tax collector in 1974.

Mr. Jarvis, clerk-treasurer for Picton for nine years, served on council for 16 years before taking the clerk-treasurer job.

SNOW, SNOW AND MORE SNOW

Anyone hoping for good weather over last weekend should have known better. What can you expect from a weekend that starts out with a Friday the 13th?

Cold, snow and more snow was what we got.

DIGGING OUT

One good thing that's come out of the record snowfalls we've had so far this winter is that Picton Council has been prodded into doing something about sidewalks and snow removal. Picton pedestrians have found it pretty hard going these last weeks.

Council has now passed a long overdue by-law calling for the removal of ice and snow from sidewalks in front of property, from roofs of buildings within five feet of the sidewalk, and prohibiting people from dumping snow from alleyways and parking lots onto the streets.

It's going to take some effort to get rid of the packed snow and ice. But soon, pedestrians may be able to forget the skis and snowshoes when they start out for a walk around town.

NEW WARDENS

Two more wardens have been named. James Pollock, reeve of Rawdon Township has been elected Hastings County warden, and Napanee Reeve Ernest Marshall has been elected to serve a second term for Lennox and Addington.

This is the first time in 111 years that the council has elected its warden to serve a second term.

MORE FROM YOUR POCKETBOOK

New school board officials are facing a tough year. Provincial grants are not keeping pace with increased costs and local taxpayers will probably have to pick up more of the education tab.

'There's bound to be an increase in the cost of education in'1978 with the local ratepayers assuming a bigger portion than in past years,' warns Hugh Kerr, Lennox and Addington's new board chairman.

'We are going to face a tough year,' says his new vice-chairman Jim McCutcheon. 'We should not lose sight of what we are here for...to provide the best education possible at the lowest cost possible.'

New director of education for Prince Edward County Schools is quoted as saying an increase in the local tax bill for education is a fact of life.

And, from the Hastings-Prince Edward Separate School Board's new chairman, Bert Garret, a forecast of a difficult year in the dollar department.

With all these predictions, it's apretty safe bet there'll be some hollering when tax time rolls around again.

DRIVES RATS WILD

A guitar player in California is making a fortune with a sound so shrill it drives rodents wild, kills cockroaches, and sends fleas flying...the Associated Press reports.

If Picton councillors are still worrying about the rats in town, maybe they could try this.

NDP SPEAKER

George Samis, MPP for Cornwall and the NDP's energy critic in the Provincial Parliament, will be in Deseronto Thursday night to speak at the meeting of the Prince Edward-Lennox Riding Association.

The association will be electing officers for the coming year and will also be naming delegates to attend the leadership convention in Toronto early next month.

GRANTS FOR PICTON

The Picton arena and the library will benefit from Wintario grants.

Final approval has been given for a grant of $7,093 to the Prince Edward Centre Commission to finance arena renovations and a grant of $2,000 to the Picton public library for the purchase of Canadian reading material.

NOW YOU CAN SAVE MONEY WITH OLD WINTARIO TICKETS

From January 20, you can use your Wintario tickets for discounts on Canadian books and magazines.

INTRODUCING HALF BACK.

Why is it called HALF BACK?

It's called HALF BACK because if you participate in the program, you get half back. You paid a dollar for each Wintario ticket. You get fifty cents back.

How does HALF BACK work?

It's simple. If your Wintario tickets don't win in the draw, don't throw them away. Just endorse them on the back with your name and address. Now they're worth 50¢ each on the purchase of any book by a Canadian author or on the purchase of a subscription to any participating Canadian magazine.

You can use up to 4 tickets for a total discount of $2.00 on any qualifying book or subscription. There's no limit to the number of books or subscriptions you can purchase as long as each one costs at least $3.00.

Here's how you get your HALF BACK rebate on books.

First, endorse your Wintario tickets on the back with your name and address. Then, take them to any participating Ontario bookstore. Participating bookstores are easy to recognize by the distinctive HALF BACK signs they display. Book rebates are also available through participating book clubs. Check your monthly mailings for details. For every 4 Wintario tickets you bring in, you will get $2.00 off on a Canadian-authored book that costs $3.00 or more. The bookseller has a wide selection of books eligible for HALF BACK rebates and will be glad to help you make a choice and turn your Wintario tickets into savings.

Here's how to get your HALF BACK rebate on magazines.

A descriptive HALF BACK leaflet is available at participating bookstores, many Wintario ticket outlets and at your regional office of the Ontario Ministry of Culture and Recreation. It has an order form attached.

In the leaflet, you'll find a list and description of the Canadian magazines that are eligible for the rebate. Simply make your choice, fill in the form, and send it off with your endorsed Wintario tickets and a cheque for the balance.

When does HALF BACK start? When does it end? And what tickets are eligible?

HALF BACK is a three-month program sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Culture and Recreation. It starts on January 20 and ends on April 12, 1978.

Tickets for 6 Wintario draws will be eligible:
JANUARY 19 MARCH 2
FEBRUARY 2 MARCH 16
FEBRUARY 16 MARCH 30

Tickets for the January 19 draw go on sale January 6. The last day tickets can be turned in for rebate under the program is April 12, 1978.

Ontario Hydro crews are using a new construction site on Highway 49, just south of 401, to service men and equipment as the power line from Lennox Generating Station to Mount Pleasant goes into construction.

Curving access roads, more trees make new lines less visible

Ontario Hydro has been prettying up its act over the last years . . . with an eye to the environmental and visual impact of those hydro towers stalking across the landscape.

In the old days, everything was slashed down along the hydro right-of-way, making access roads for work crews, and getting rid of foliage which might grow tall and interfere with the wires.

No more . . . the towers carrying the lines north from the Lennox generating station to the junction on Mount Pleasant will be in straight lines, but the access paths are zigging and zagging across the townships, through the foliage and past homes and cottages.

Norm Manning, Hydro's P.R. officer for Eastern Ontario, took the Scanner for an on-site tour of the area where the first of the construction work is underway.

Hydro owns the more than 13 mile corridor needed for the project. The tower sites, at 900-ft. intervals, are already located by orange stakes and the footings for the four legs of some of the towers have already been constructed. Next will come the erection of the towers and the stringing of the wires.

'We're trying to keep all our construction low profile,' Mr. Manning said. 'With Hydro's new forestry policies, we're interested in the looks of things. We take down only the quick-growing trees, where possible. And we sometimes prune other trees, instead of taking them down.'

The Hydro station on the old Slash Road, from which Napanee gets its power, is only about three years old and was built on the low-profile style . . . no big tangle of towers and wires up high in the sky.

'On older sites, which weren't built this way, we sometimes build hills around them now and plant trees on the hills to make it look better,' Mr. Manning pointed out.

A forestry man himself, he is enthusiastic about the new approach.

Hydro has set up a construction site on highway 49, just south of 401, to service men and equipment for the new line construction.

Asked about the new line which will, eventually, go westward from Mount Pleasant to Oshawa, Mr. Manning said owners of property along the line have been given an extended deadline for voicing objections. But, where Hydro has permission, it is already doing some surveying to help pinpoint locations for towers and access roads.

Cost of constructing the Lennox to Oshawa line has been estimated at $82 million . . . not counting the cost of acquiring property or easements.

There is no date set, as yet, for any construction on the Lennox to Picton line.

Deseronto crime takes a nose dive in '77

It would appear, from the 1977 report given to Deseronto Council last week, by the Police Department, that crime has taken something of a nose dive in the town.

The only area where an upsurge is reported is in the number of housebreaking occurrences...8 in 1977, compared with 5 in 1976...but the shopbreaking occurrences went down from 13 to 9. This might be due, in some measure, to the fact that people are taking more precautions. Only 9 premises were found insecure, compared with 20 the previous year.

Once again, there were no fatal motor vehicle ccidents and the numb er of people injured remained at three..the same as in 1976. The reportable accidents were down also...from 30 to 24.

Five hundred and sixty charges were laid. Criminal charges were down, liquor and traffic charges showed a slight increase.

The police investigated 302 complaints, compared with 427 in 1976, and answered 3,837 other calls, compared with 4,616.

library notes

The library will be closed from Monday, Jan 23 to Friday, Jan. 27, for a full inventory of its books. Patrons, who have books due during this week, may return them through the slot or keep them until Monday, Jan. 30 when regular library services resume. They will not be fined.

Friday, Jan. 20 and inventory week itself will be considered a 'forgiveness' week. No patron will have to pay a fine on overdue books if he returns his books during this period. The library would appreciate getting as many overdue books back as possible to facilitate taking inventory.

Mothers - please take note. Commencing Wed. Feb. 1, 'Story Hour' will be held from 2 p.m. until 2:45 p.m. on Wednesday afternoons.

A number of mothers have stated that they would prefer afternoon scheduling and Wednesdays will not conflict with the senior citizens film shows. This week, however, story hour will be held, as usual, on Friday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Deseronto Minor Hockey Report

O.M.H.A. HOCKEY

Statistics released over the holiday season should prove to the people of Deseronto that they have available to them a very good group of teams to cheer for at the Deseronto Community Centre.

OMHA Atoms, sponsored by VanVlack's Market were in third place as of Dec. 2, close behind Fort Henry and Ernestown. I'm sure the Atoms will be quick to point out that these stats are now obsolete. A quick check with Quinte St. Lawrence Atom Convenor, Mary Dunlop of Bloomfield, proved this, as she stated that more up to date records will show Deseoronto in second place, hard on the heels of Ernestown. So to coach Pete Reid and the Deseronto Atoms - keep up the good work.

O.M.H.A. PeeWees - sposored by the Deseronto Legion Branch 280 show up as Deseronto's most impressive team with a perfect 13 wins for 13 starts in their Quinte St. Lawrence division. To top this off, Deseronto PeeWees placed 4 scorers in the top 7 of the entire Q.S.L. Pee Wee 'B' Loop, with Chris Brant in frist, Doug McMechan in second, Bill McMechan in fourth and Steve Cassidy in seventh. So, also to coach Al Fraser and the Deseronto PeeWees - keep on going, All-Ontario is not impossible for a team like this.

O.M.H.A. Bantams - sponsored by G.A. Grant's Insurance are having a tough go this year, and as of Dec. 4, find themselve in fourth place in the Quinte St. Lawrence standings. This does not mean that the boys are not playing good hockey when it is noted that they are still ahead of their rivals from Belleville . Coach Jim Dobbin and the Bantams may still raise a few eyebrows before the season is over. Last year's Bantams captured the Q.S.L. 'B' Championship after a less than impressive season, and Jim and the boys will be going all out to keep this trophy in our local arena.

O.M.H.A. Midgets - jointly sponsored by Sutcliffe Enterprises and Don Reid, are shown on the statistic release as in third place with 9 points as of January 1. However, Tamworth in the lead, and Wellington, only have 10 and 9 points respectively. Here again is the possibility of a first place finisher. Records show that the Deseronto Midgets place 3 scorers in the top ten of the Quinte St. Lawrence Midget 'B' Division. John Farrell is the number one man here, with Lenard Farrell in third and Ron VanVlack in tenth. To the Deseronto Midgets and coach Dennis Vick - keep it up team, we're rooting for you.

O.M.H.A. Juveniles - sponsored by Bob's Sports of Belleville, are Deserontos 'oldest' boys, and are also the second of Deseronto's OMHA teams to find themselves in first place on the latest statistics. Deseronto's Juveniles have no less than 5 of the top 10 pointgetters in the Quinte St. Lawrence Juvenile 'B' Division. Kevin Baker holds down first place here, with Dave Murphy in second, Blair Fingland in sixth and Tom Maracle and Rick Brant tied for ninth. With the Juveniles going against Godfrey in the first round of the playoffs, it looks like a good year for coach Carl Beattie and the Juveniles. Keep scoring boys - we're behind you.

Speaking of behind - Let's get off ours and get down to the rink and cheer these teams on. Lots of centres wait for ten years to come up with teams with records like these. They deserve your support. It's our rink - let's use it!

DESERONTO MIDGETS

Deseronto's Reid Sutcliffe O.M.H.A. Midgets came back from their long holiday layoff on January 3, when they defeated the Godfrey Midgets at North Frontenac Arena by a 7 to 6 score. It was the team's third win in 4 starts against the Godfrey crew. Lenard Farrell potted Deseronto's first goal, unassisted, early in the period, and Ray McGuiness from John Farrel, and Peter Morris, John Farrell unassisted and Ronnie VanVlack on a tip-in from Cory Vick gave Deseronto a 4 to 1 lead after the first period.

The second period did not go quite so rosy, although Deseronto got goals from Lenard Farrell, unassisted, John Farrell unassisted, and John Farrel from Tom Thompson. Godfrey, during this period, managed to score 4 goals and the period ended with Deseronto leading by 7 to 5.

However, Deseronto was without a goal-tender, as Steve Blewett had been struck in the head in the dying minutes of the second period, and was taken to K.G.H. by ambulance for possible head injuries. Luckily, Steve was X-rayed and released with nothing worse than a very bad headache. Ray McGuiness, a team forward, hurried into the goaltender's equipment, and with a solid defensive effort from the whole team, allowed only one goal in the third period, to salvage a 7 to 6 victory for Deseronto.

On January 5, Deseronto played host to Wellington, and for the first time this year were able to defeat the Wellington squad. Lenard Farrell and Ray McGuiness were the leading pointgetters in the game with two goals and one assist each. Other Deseronto goals went to Cory Vick and John Farrell with assists going to Peter Morris (2) Cory Vick, Ronnie VanVlack, Doug Campbell and John Farrell. Deseronto won the game by a 6 to 4 score, but lost the services of defenceman Kevin Brant for at least 6 weeks, with a broken collar bone. Kevin was hit by a good hard check in the first period, and the team will miss his steady performances at the blue line. Steve Blewett, back in the nets after his injury on Tuesday night, played almost perfect goal for Deseronto, and deserves much of the credit for keeping Wellington off the score sheet.

On January 7, Deseronto went to Napanee and earned a 5 to 5 tie with the Napanee Majors. John Farrell picked up 3 goals, one unassisted, one from Lenard Farrell and one from Doug Campbell and Ron VanVlack. Lenard Farrell also picked up one goal assisted by Ron VanVlack, and the goal to earn the tie was scored by R. McGuiness from Lenard Farrell with only 17 seconds remaining in the game, and Deseronto's netkeeper, Eric Maracle at the bench in favour of another attacker.

On January 8, without having a loss in their last 6 league games, Deseronto saw the return of the old problem - the 'third period slump'. This time, however, it was more than a slump. It was complete collapse. Before the third was a minute old, Deseronto had built up a 7 to 3 lead over their Picton hosts. Les Punchard and Rob O'Brian had each tallied twice, with singles going to Doug Campbell, Tom Thompson and Lenard Farrell. Then the whole bottom fell out, and Picton went on to score 6 unanswered goals against the faltering Deseronto club.

Deseronto has only one more chance to avenge themselves against Picton. That will come on Thursday, January 12 at 7:00 p.m., when Picton visits the Deseronto Community Recreation Centre. With the season fast coming to a close, only 6 regular games remaining, the team will be going all out to finish with a good record. With a .575 average to date, let's try for a.750 to end the season!

DESERONTO MIDGETS

After a very brief, one day rest, on Monday January 9, the Reid Sutcliffe Midgets faced the most demanding week of the season with 3 games in as many nights and performed admirably under very tiring conditions.

On Tuesday night, the team travelled to North Frontenac Arena to play the Godfrey Midgets, and left with a fairly easy 8 to 3 win. Lenard Farrell picked up 3 of Deseronto's goals, while John Farrell scored twice and assisted on 2 more. Les Punchard, Ronnie VanVlack and Tom Thompson accounted for the teams other 3 goals. Additional assists went to Tim Brant with 2, Ron VanVlack with 2, and Les Punchard with 1.

On Wednesday night it was the teams first visit to the Tamworth Arena, and also the first win against the Tamworth boys. Deseronto took a 2 goal lead early in the first period on two unassisted goals from Lenard Farrell and Ray McGuiness, only to have Tamworth come back to tie the game before the period ended. Deseronto took the lead early in the second period on a goal by Les Punchard from Peter Morris, but Les had to score again late in the period from Tom Thompson and John Farrell to earn the team a tie after two periods, as Tamworth had again scored twice. In the third period, however, Steve Blewett, in the Deseronto net proved to be too much, as he came up with save after save to blank Tamworth in the final 15 minutes, while his team mates picked up 2 more goals to win by a 6 to 4 score. Deseronto's final two tallys were from Rob O'Brien unassisted and John Farrell from Rob O'Brien and Peter Morris. A big win for Deseronto.

Revenge was called for on Thursday night, as the Midgets faced their rivals from Picton. Picton had won their first game of the season against any team last Sunday when they had upset the local squad in Picton. Revenge they wanted and revenge they got. When the final buzzer sounded, the Deseronto shooters had put ten pucks behind their rival's goaler, while Eric 'Tea-Bags' Maracle had allowed only four. Scoring for Deseronto were John Farrell with 3, Lenard Farrell with 2, Les Punchard with 2, and Dale Zieman, Ray McGuiness and Rob O'Brien with one each. Dale Forestell picked up 3 points on assists, Lenard Farrell 2, and Ray McGuiness, Ron VanVlack, Tom Thompson, Rob O'Brien (2), Tim Brant, Les Punchard and John Farell picked up the other assists.

Three games in three nights - and all victories. A good showing for the Deseronto Midgets who well earned their week's rest before hosting the Tamworth team at Deseronto Community Recreation Centre on Thursday night, January 19.

See you at the game!

Young students from grades 7 and 8 at Deseronto's Elementary School were keenly interested in hearing about jobs people were doing, at the Career Day held last Wednesday. During question periods, hands kept flying up from youngsters wanting to be heard.

HOW MUCH DOES IT PAY?

Students interested in cash returns possible from jobs

'How much can you make?' . . . 'What are the hours?' . . . 'What do you like (or dislike) about your job?' These were the kind of questions fielded by speakers at the Career Day held in Deseronto Public School last Wednesday.

About 75 students from grades 7 and 8 were on hand to hear nine speakers from different employment areas outline qualifications required, and what their jobs entailed.

Carl Beattie, Deseronto's Police Chief, was the one who organized the special event, in co-operation with W. Muir, school principal.

Speakers were Carl Beattie; James Lester from Carload Foods; Carman Milligan, Deseronto's Clerk-Treasurer; Marvin Brooks carpenter; Dr. P. Steenberg; Audrey Howett, teacher; Christine Moore, Preventive Dental Assistant; Robert Graydon, Lawyer, and Bess Wares, the Quinte Scanner editor.

Question periods were very informal and many of the speakers, especially Chief Beattie, knew most of the youngsters by name. The Deseronto police are very active in social events for the town's young people.

'Why don't the police wear running shoes?' one student wanted to know. Carl looked at his shoes and said, 'It could be an asset sometimes, but more police would be injured if we didn't wear safety shoes.' He was also asked, 'Do women cops ride motorcycles . . . had he ever been injured . . . how long did it take to be a chief . . . His answer to this was that he had been lucky, he 'fell into it' when he got out of the army.

'What happens if you make a mathematical mistake . . . do they fire you?' Carman Milligan was asked. 'I hope not,' was Milligan's answer, with an addition of 'No they don't.'

Several girls were very interested in the law profession. Robert Graydon told them that about half the students entering law courses now were women.

The youngsters groaned when one asked Mrs. Howlett what teaching subject she liked best, and she said 'History'. Mrs. Moore said that she liked everything about her job but it got a little messy during surgery.

Costs of becoming a doctor, outlined by Dr. Steenberg, included such items as over $3,000 for fees, board, books and equipment during the first year . . . the number of years required to finish training . . . and how long it took to specialize.

Marvin Brooks had brought some of the tools used by a carpenter to show the youngsters. Asked about remuneration, he said he made good money in a week but there were other weeks when there was no work at all, so you had to even it out.

James Lester told the students it often takes a long time to become a store manager now.

And Bess Wares told the students there was no need to tell them what her work was like . . . they could see what she was doing . . . taking notes and pictures during the proceedings.

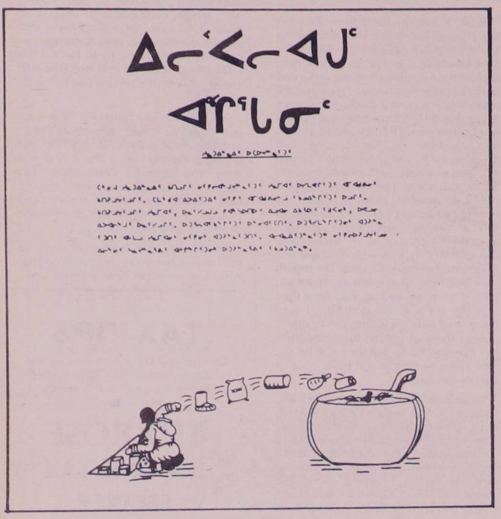
A WEEKLY NEWSMAGAZINE SERVING THE QUINTE REGION

Second Class Registration Number 1738 Volume VIII - No. 20 Wednesday, January 25, 1978 10¢ per copy



There's nothing wrong with your eyes ... the writing at the top of the above isn't English, it's Eskimo and it means Cook Book. And the picture at the bottom is showing an Eskimo cook what fun it can be to make a casserole ... the cook is just throwing everything into the pot. Recipes in the book are in both English and Eskimo. So are hints on what and how to cook now that native foods are not always available. The book was brought into the Scanner office by Don Miller. Story is on page 8.

Don't fiddle with phone book while your house is burning

If you live in Prince Edward County, better not wait until a fire breaks out before you start thumbing through the phone book, looking for a numbe r to call.

The Scanner had heard some complaints from people who called the wrong fire department in past weeks. So we got out the phone book and started checking for ourselves.

In the Picton-Bloomfield-Wellington part of the book, there is a listing on page 121, in bold type, FIRE EMERGENCY CALLS. Picton Fire Department is listed, so is Sophiasburgh. And, from phones in Wellington, you are told to call a ZEnith number in Belleville. Bloomfield, Hallowell, is also listed.

And, on another page, there is a listing for Wellington Fire Department.

There are no listings for North or South Marysburgh, Athol, or Ameliasburgh in the Picton section of the phone book.

After some searching, we found Ameliasburgh listed in the Belleville section of the phone book.

And we discovered, through a phone call to the Picton Fire Department, that the Picton firemen cover North Marysburgh and Athol Townships too.

The only mystery remaining was who do you call to fight your fire in South Marysburgh?

One resident we contacted said he learned the names of the volunteer firemen 'by word of mouth'. Another said she had picked up a card at one of the two Milford stores, on which four numbers were listed...one for each of the four volunteers, starting with the chief, A Ford.

'We put cards in the two general stores in Milford for people to pick up and take home with them,' Mr. Ford said. 'It was fairly successful'..but he didn't know how many people actually kept the cards close to their phones.

Tracking down the above information took us quite a bit of time...a lot more time than anyone is going to have if a fire does break out.

Here's what we found ...for easy reference. But we would advise people to check out their own particular area number for themselves...just to make sure they get the right department if they need it.

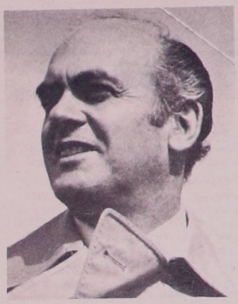
Mail gets through

The Canadian Post Office is getting a lot of flak these days about poor service. But his item is a pat on the back for them. A letter mailed in England, on January 14, took less than a week to get to Northport, despite the fact that the address was far from complete or accurate. Addressed only to Jan and Bess, RR 2, Pickton, Toronto, Ont., Canada, Jan Nicol and her mother Bess Wares received the letter last, snowy, Friday.

Prince Edward-Lennox MPP resigns position of Ontario Energy Minister



Prince Edward - Lennox MPP, James Taylor of Northport, resigned Friday, from his position as Minister of Energy in the Provincial Government's Cabinet, and his going has not been a quiet one. The resignation was accepted by Premier William Davis one day before Cabinet shuffle announcements were made.

According to a Canadian Press report, Mr. Taylor spoke openly, on the weekend, about what he called the sham and the pretence of politics and the bureaucracy ... his sense of disillusionment and disagreement with the government of Premier William Davis which almost caused him to resign while he was social services minister - 'You run into a system that's more important than the substance.'

Mr. Taylor had held two controversial cabinet posts. He was Minister of Community and Social Services when the 1976 limit of 5.5 per cent spending increase was set for the Ministry. In his newspaper interview he hinted that he was left defenceless in implementing the cuts because he wasn't told how to hold the line - just to hold it.

In the less than a year during which he was Minister of Energy, another very sensitive post, he was under constant fire for what opposition members said was a lack of knowledge about his Ministry. Most recent target for criticism was a government decision to buy $7 million of uranium for nuclear power plants.

He told reporters that his mandate in the Cabinet was not to investigate options or alternatives. His mandate was to study the terms of contracts with the companies, and that was all he could do.

He was also criticized for his handling of Ontario Hydro which he said was a Cabinet Minister's nightmare. The Energy Minister has political responsibility without political control.

Reuben Baetz, new Energy Minister, got down to work right away, touring Ministry offices and getting a briefing on major energy issues ... keeping some civil servants at work long after closing time.

Mr. Baetz said his top priority will be to clean up the Government's relationship with Ontario Hydro ... a relationship which, he said, had in the past few years, troubled and perplexed energy ministers. He said Ontario Hydro has failed to communicate with the public on the nuclear option.

Mr. Taylor has made no statements about what he will do in the future, other than that he will not seek provincial re-election. A meeting is being held in Napanee this week at which future plans may be discussed with local constituents.

Seven property owners request hearing on Lennox-PE hydro line expropriation

No one likes to be in the position of having to decide disputes involving neighbours, and James Taylor, MPP for Prince Edward-Lennox, is not going to be in that position now that he has resigned as Ontario's Energy Minister.

When Ontario Hydro is expropriating land for a right of way, property owners have a right to a hearing. The officer at the hearing sends his report to the Minister of Energy, who has the final say on whether to approve, disapprove, or approve with modifications, in each disputed instance.

Seven of the 82 property owners in North Fredericksburgh andSophiasburgh, affected by the right of way for the new power line from the Lennox Generating Station to Prince Edward, have requested hearings. They will be appearing at the expropriation hearings scheduled to be held in the County Court House, Napanee, on Feb. 8, with B.W.Trumpour presiding as hearing officer.

Purpose of the hearings is to determine whether the taking of the land is fair, sound and reasonably necessary in the achievement of Hydro's objectives.

Back last fall, Ontario Hydro filed application with the Ontario Government to expropriate property for the 230-kilovolt line extending into the county across the Hayward Long Reach, via submarine cable. Hydro's next step was to inform property owners that the application for expropriation approval had been filed and to advise them of compensation, hearings and other procedures.

N. Manning, Hydro's public relations officer for this area, said Tuesday that no final decision had yet been made concerning the method for submarining the line under the Long Reach.

Stepped sewer rate accepted

After some discussion Monday night, Deseronto Council has decided to withdraw its protest against sewer rates and to accept the stepped up rate choice given to them by the Ministry of the Environment.

A letter from the Ministry, in reply to an appeal for a revision of the rates by the Town, provided supporting information for the rate schedule.

'Based on what they require, the rates don't seem too unreasonable to me,' said Carman Milligan, clerk-treasurer.

Mayor John Neal wanted to know whether the stepped rate would mean any increase to the homeowner and Mr.

Prison work gangs picking Prince Edward County crops? ... and at higher wages than the present migrants get?

Donald Roach, an advisory council member to correctional services Minister Frank Drea, has suggested that about 1,000 Ontario prisoners could be used to replace the people now brought in by the Federal Government to pick such foods as tomatoes and apples.

Mr. Roach , who accompanied the Correctional Services Minister on a tour of prison work-gangs in Georgia, was quoted as saying that inmates should be paid at rates comparable to, or better than those of the migrant workers.

Well, that's one suggestion to get the crops in, but it's not too likely to get support from local farmers who have been pressing Immigration and Manpower Departments to come up with decisions on off-shore labour.

The question of off-shore workers has been a thorny one in the Quinte area.

Granted, farmers need to have temporary workers to help bring the crops in, but with such high unemployment in our own country, many people question why workers should be brought in from abroad.

The Federal Government's answer is assistance in shipping unemployed Canadians from low-emloyment areas to sections of the country where they are needed. Last month, the Federal Government siad it was prepared to spend larger sums this year and that it would not be increasing the size of the off-shore program at a high time of unemployment.

But some farmers have complained that the government offices have filled requests for field hands with inadequate people.

So what's the solution?

Perhaps it's time we tried out some methods that have proved their worth over the years in other countries. In England, whole families head out in trailers in a holiday mood to pick hops in the country, and school hoidays are arranged so students can help with the crops. In northern England, the October holiday time is called the 'Potato picking holiday'. We had such a sensible arrangement in Canada during the war years too. Students were allowed to miss classes if they were helping with the harvest.

Before we get into considering Georgia-type prison work gangs, let's look into every other alternative.

Council withdraws sewer rate protest

Milligan said it wouldn't for the next three years, but the alternative choice of a constant rate could have meant an increase at once.

Council at first considered filing the Ministry letter, but Councillor David Martin pointed out that 'We'll have to withdraw our protest or follow it through. Personally, after careful consideration, I thing the increase is due to the fact that industrial and residential development is less than they expected. We should now indicate whether we want the stepped rate or the constant.'

He moved to withdraw the protest and accept the stepped rate structure.

'I don't think we can continue to pigeonhole all this correspondence coming in,' Councillor A.Blayney commented, and seconded the motion, which was passed by council.

MASTER CHARGE CHARGEX

Bird's Eye View

by Orville S. Greenbush

Well, I seen in the papers that our Baby James has gone and crashed his kamikaze plane right into Bill Davis' Big Blue Machine. Can't say as I blame him, reckon if'n I'd been given the sticky end of the stick the way he has, I'd up and tell it the way it is as well. Reckon they gave him every dirty job around, and he was just honest enough to go ahead and do 'em as best he could. Got him slaughtered by the press. Now I've said my piece about him often enough, never can resist poking fun at these political types, but I'm sure going to miss having Jim as a target. Reckon a lot of folks around here will find they ain't got as good a man rooting for them up to the Queen's Park as well. Trouble was with him, he couldn't keep his mouth shut like most of the others, so he got picked on good and proper. Now they says the press assasinated him, I sure hope they ain't including me in that. I did my share of poking fun to be sure, but I reckon I'll do just the same for the next feller elected round here. It's all a part of the game.

Wonder what he's going to do now. Folks say as they reckon he'll go federal, but I dunno. Mind you, he'd be pretty sure to get elected, but first he'd have to get nominated, and after some of the things he's been saying, maybe the local tory big wigs ain't going to be too pleased with him. Guess we'll just have to wait and see. Maybe he'll turn around and be something different from a politician.

Talking about being something different, did you read that story in the papers last week about that nun as had a sex change and turned into a man. Seems they fixed her up real life like with length of plastic pipe and some belly skin. Now, in my opinion, that story done more for metric conversion that any publicity piece so far. All the folks I know learned real quick how to convert 15 centimetres into inches. Even my Elma.

It weren't so much that she figgered it out that surprised me, my Elma's nobody's fool, it were her reaction that was the shocker. After she'd read the story and figgered centimetres into inches she turned around to me and said, 'Well, after all that time and trouble, you'd think they'd of done better for him than that.'

I'm telling you, her old mother would turn over in her grave if'n she could hear what a swinger her Elma growed into.

Deseronto Council Briefs

• Council received a letter from Darcy McKeough, treasurer of Ontario, asking for comment on a copy of a first reading of a bill concerning the Municipal Licensing Act. Mr. McKeough is looking for comment to consider when making changes before the bill is re-introduced.

Reeve Roger Cole wanted to know if the bill would have any great effect here and Carman Milligan told him that a few of the existing by-laws would have to be re-vamped to fit the new act.

The letter was placed in the active file.

• Deputy Reeve B. Johnston, reporting on streets and parks, said that as far as snow was concerned, it seemed to be a chronic problem.

• Councillor A. Blayney, reporting for the ad-hoc planning committee, said there was nothing to report in the sence that they haven't had a meeting, but he would like all members of the committee to become familiar with some literature, including a summary of all grants available to communities like Deseronto. 'I think we should take a look at it and take full advantage,' he said. He also had literature on community tax reform.

• Deputy Reeve Johnston asked council to check about the lighting at the bus stop on Dundas Street.

• A suggestion from Reeve Roger Cole to 'have a budget before us by next council meeting,' raised some laughter. He pointed out that, 'we got started on budgets relatively early.' And he modified his suggestion by commenting, 'even a very rough draft so we'd know where we're going.'

Although he is Cornwall's MPP and the NDP energy critic in the Legislature, George Samis was just Jan Nicol's husband to the NDP riding association for Prince Edward-Lennox, meeting in Deseronto last Thursday. 'I've been introduced as George Samis' fianceé or wife at so many meetings in his riding that I thought I'd turn the tables on him, for a change,' Jan said. The T-shirt was a gift to the guest speaker.

Conservatives not NDP are welfare party: Samis

'The Conservatives, not the NDP are the welfare party', George Samis, MPP Cornwall, told supporters from the Prince Edward-Lennox Riding Association at a meeting held in Deseronto, Thursday night.

Criticising the Conservatives' inaction on unemployment, he said, 'Where there are no jobs, people go on unemployment insurance and, when that runs out ... on welfare. The NDP wants people earning.'

'Jobs are going south. We have to come up with what we'd do to improve research and development in manufacturing ... what we'd do to help small business ... we have to learn more about how the private part of our economony works,' he said.

'The party is on the rebound, the past few month weren't great for the NDP' he said, and cited the last provincial election, the resignation of party leader Stephen Lewis and the 'decimating news of the NDP loss in Manitoba ... 'We bottomed out, but we're on the way back up now. We've got 33 seats in the Legislature and we only had 19 when Stephen Lewis was elected party leader back in 1970.'

'Despite the dirtiest campaign in the media, the conservatives didn't get a majority in the last election, yet they are behaving in the legislature as if they won the election. Nobody wants to cause an election, but, when the two opposition parties get together, the conservatives will back down.'

He predicted that the conservatives will pick the time for the election, probably in the fall of 1979. And that William Davis would not be the party leader. 'They'll call a leadership convention about a year ahead of time and give the new leader a year of experience before they go to the electorate. They've done this in the past and it has been a very clever way to do it.'

The meeting had been called to elect a new executive for the riding association and to name delegates to the NDP leadership convention coming up in February.

New riding president is Garry Hanna of Amherstview. He is vice-president of Local 31, Bell Canada, Communications workers of Canada.

Jan Nicol-Samis, candidate for the riding in the last two provincial election, and retiring vice-president, said Mr. Hanna had worked very hard in the last provincial elections, and that she thought there was great potential for the party in the Amherstview-Bath area. 'It's going to be difficult for a new president,' she said, 'I was very happy to represent the riding, but it is difficult to handle because of its size.'

Other officers named were Robin Lunn, Picton, secretary; Theresa LaRose, Picton, chief financial officer; Alec Lunn, Picton, provincial council delegate. Delegates for the leadership convention are Jan Nicol, Alec Lunn and Garry Hanna.

Quinte News Round Up

TOO AWFUL TO PRINT

The Farmers' Almanac provides a lot of interesting information, including detailed weather forecasts for the year ahead.

With January having been such a terrible month, we thought we'd take a look at the Almanac and see if February was going to be any better....and, what do you know...the Almanac has skipped February this year entirely, for the United States. Maybe it was too bad to print.

However, it did have the Canadian weather, and February is going to be another lousy month. Feb. 1-3, wet, then clear and cold; 4-7, stormy; 8-11, cold spell in Ontario; 12 -15, unsettled, sone flurries; 16 - 19, variable; 20-23, storm period, heavy snow in Great Lakes area; 24-28, snow...and temperatures for the month, below normal.

FRIDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES

The Odessa and District Lions Club is planning to run a series of first-run movies, Friday evenings in Ernestown Secondary School.

Proceeds from the $1 admission will go to community projects and betterment. There is no charge for senior citizens.

Sounds like a great way to raise money and provide people with some entertainment. Without a car, there's no way to get to a movie if you live in a small community..and, even with a car, who wants to drive to the city on a cold winter evening.

METRES AND LITRES

Horses will be running in metres and wine lovers will be drinking in litres by the end of 1978. Grocery shelves will be stocked with metric packages. Construction, real estate, drilling and production in the petroleum and natural gas industry will begin to convert this year.

Canadian Press reports there is still some opposition...prairie farmers have resisted converting land measurement to hectares...and, in sports, although golf will continue to expand its use of metric units, the Grey Cup is likely to retain its use of yards, feet and inches.

You might as well give up, fellows, and join the metric team. There were a lot of us protesting against metric weather reports and highway signing, but we didn't get very far...we're driving in 20 below weather at speeds of 80 now.

BREAKING OWN LAW?

Who's responsible for the sidewalk running along Picton's Main Street in front of the fairgrounds? The fairgrounds are county-owned, but the sidewalk may belong to Picton.

The town has just passed a by-law requiring owners to shovel sidewalks withing 24 hours after a storm. The fine is up to $300. The sidewalk in front of the fairgrounds has not been shovelled all winter and pedestrians have to go out on the busy road.

PUMPS INSPECTED AND OK'D

Andrew Maracle Junior had a surprise visitor at his Mohawk Imperial Sales station on highway 49 on Monday ... an inspector from the Federal Ministry of Consumer and Corporate Affairs ... M.J. Callaghan. Someone had complained to the Ministry that they didn't get full measure from the station pumps.

'I was surprised,' Mr. Maracle said, 'Because I am very conscious of pricing and control and good service to customers.'

And his surprise was jutified. Four tests were run, two on regular gas pumps, one on the premium punp and one on the no-lead pump - all the tests came out verifying that customers were getting full measure ... in fact all the pumps were pumping a little more than they should be.

'They don't tell you who complained, he said, 'but we have a lot of people going back and forth and with everyone short of money these days, they're conscious of how much everything is costing.'

Ice cream from willow buds, berries, seal oil for Arctic gourmets

Want to know how to barbecue ribs...to bake fruit and banock pudding...to make an ice cream from willow buds, berries and seal oil which, in one meal, will provide enough vitamins for several weeks?

The Scanner has been lucky enough to get its hands on a very unique cook book, designed by the Department of Education in Keewatin District, for use by the Eskimo people. The book was brought into our office by Don Miller, who spent eight years in the Arctic.

All the information in the book is given in both languages, English and Eskimo. Much of the information is graphically illustrated by Erica Nutaradlaluk and shows, in easy-to-understand pictures, just how a recipe should be followed.

The text at the beginning, giving basic information about foods required to keep healthy, points out what has happened to the native people in recent years, and how the coming of so-called civilization has upset their healthy way of life.

Here are some quotes from the text.

'In the old times, Eskimos appeared to have a wholesome way to feed themselves and their children.Except for some very unfortunate periods when there was no fish or game and they starved, they seemed to manage to find just the right type of food at the right time of the year to fill all the body's needs and to remain strong and healthy. That appears to be different now. We find many children and some women and even some men now with too little red blood; some children with weak muscles and bones; some with skin and gums which get easily inflamed, all signs of the lack of the right food.

'In some settlements now there is not as much native food availble, and people must buy from the store. It would be useless to say don't eat store food. Store food is not bad, but when using store food it is important to choose a variety of foods. It is also important to choose the right foods. Cookies, candy, pop, will keep people from getting hungry, but they will not keep people healthy and strong.'

The recipes are divided into three sections..indexed in the corner by one of three drawings...a jumping stick man for the milk and meat group, the Grow foods; a beaming sun for the fruits and vegetables; a running stick man for the breads and cereals, the Go foods.

In the meat section, readers are advised that land meats like caribou and seal are better than store meats, and also cheaper.

'Make sure to get some fresh meat and fish either by own hunting and fishing or trading and sharing at all seasons. For making strong muscles and good new blood there is no be tter meat in the world than seal meat and almost as good is caribou, bear, whale, rabbit, muskrat, ducks, ptarmigan and others.'

On vitamins...'Willow leaves and buds and some other plants and seaweeds have lots of this vitamin and also iron and other healthy stuff in them. In some places on the eastern Arctic one can g e t between tides seaweed even in winter and buds from willows too can be collected oin wind exposed hills most of the time. Old Eskimos used to mix them with fresh or dried berries and seal oil and made Eskimo ice cream (Akutak). That really will pep you up in winter and spring when one gets tired by lack of vitamins.'

For strong teeth...'You all know that with the old type of food people had good teeth up into old age and that nowadays even children have lots of rotten teeth. To clean teeth and strengthen gums, and at the same time give some stuff to make strong bone: and teeth,which is important for children and mothers expecting babies, is to chew bones, such as the soft ends of ribs.'

Another area in which the cookbook gives advice is planning three meals a day...'In the old days, people did not sit down at a table for meals. Rather they are small amounts of food throughout the day, whenever they were hungry. It was quite easy to do this because the family was usually tog ether at home all day. Nowadays children get up early to go to school and many g rownups work at job s away from home.

Some sample menus...breakfast, caribou, orange juice and toast or bannock; lunch or dinner, seal liver, peas, pilot biscuits, milk and canned peaches.
